

Speccky Cranbourne

After a few runs at Seymour that have not yeilded any results, Speccky is nommed for Cranbourne this Thursday. There may have not been any results since the good Swan Hill 3rd placing, but some lessons may have been learnt in the last couple of runs for the stable to hopefully put to use in her next assignment.

She's been up a fair while now and the setbacks in this campaign have not helped, but we are always hopeful of the ol' Speccky working thru it and coming out the other end.

In other news on the family. The uncle Progreso won a maiden in Ireland, and the 2yo Val Royal half brother has landed in Hong Kong from NZ. 7yo Hilly looks like he has gone to a new trainer and has renewed around the Wagga area but wet tracks aren't helping. Finally, Royal Hero 8yo looks like he may have been retired finally when Ray Dart sold him at the MM July sale on the Gold Coast. He retires winning over $100k in winnings and multiple city wins.
